Communicachaos

🕒 1 - 2 hours 👥 10 - 100

Through specific hands-on tasks, communication is sharpened and the usefulness of collaboration is highlighted. The assignments themselves are not overly difficult; however, you cannot solve them alone. It takes a team. Working together, communicating, asking for help and offering help.

During this team activity, it becomes clear that being able to use your strengths increases your motivation.

After each task, the teams are redistributed, also in group size, and a short debriefing is given on how you did as a newly assembled team.
